

Science IN THE Cinema

Jurassic Park

Imagine a world where dinosaurs and humans coexist; where scientists can use DNA from fossils to bring extinct species back to life. In Jurassic Park, this world is a reality!

The film will be introduced by Dr. David Pilgrim, professor in the Department of Biological Sciences at the University of Alberta. Following the movie, he will lead a discussion on genetics and cloning, and whether bringing back the dinosaurs is actually possible. The answer may surprise you!
